President Broke Down.

Professor Barnaly, the head of Hartsville College, tells how the advice of a member of the faculty saved him when he was without hope. A tesson for workers.

Professor Alvin P. Barnaby, President of Hartsville College, at Hartsville, Ind., has learned the method by which professional men or business men, or anyone whose duties are too much for their strength, may repair their shattered health.

Graduates of the college in all parts of the world will rejoice to learn that President Barnaby has fully recovered from the break down that inreatened to end his useful career. He is a new man, mentally and pivy cally; energetic, enterprising, full of vitality Fie tells his own story.

THAT FATAL SCALDING.

An Official Explanation from Waterbury

Showing How the Attendants Meade and Sanctuary Disabeyed the Rules. and as a Result Scalding Water Han Apon the Patient Jacobs.

Gov. Grow has made public the official explanation of the fatal scalding of a pabent in Vermont State Asylum for the In-sane at Waterbury. Dr. F. W. Page, the superintendent, was attending the Mil-dred Brewster trial at Montpoler at the time of the occurrence, and the statement is written by Dr. G. B. Coon, the first as-Joseph Jacobs, a filthy and demented patient, soiled himself April 19, as he often did several times a week. A bath was necessary and the rules required bathing inder the personal supervision of Mr. Meade, the head attendant of the ward. Mr. Meade delegated the work to Mr. Sanctuary, who ranked second in the hall. Mr. Meade explanation his action by saying that week's clothing from the laundry had been brought in, and he thought Sanctuary could best give the bath while he (Meads) assorted the clothing Mr. Meade's attention was called to the on of Jacobs by the exciamation look at the man, look at the man" made by a patient manned Ryan. Springing to the door he saw that Sanctuary was no present, and that Jacobs had just stepped out of the till while the superficial layer or scatt skill was banging from his limbs. The water in the tub was running, but he ms it was not so had but that he could agents for the United States old his hand in it for several seconds at a Sanctuary says that upon being in-structed by Mr. Meads to give the bath he drew the water to the proper temperature and turned it off, then instructed Mr. Jaents to get it. As he was getting into the cation in the half between two mischievous patients, and thinking it his duty, went (who was bathing him under Sanctuary's supervision) and conducted one of the dissupervision) and confined one of the disorderly patients to a son and settined to the batis-more to find discosts in the core diston above described, and in the care of Mr. Meads who had acrived on the scene
